ALGORITHMIC HEDGE FUND report September 2025

The trading portfolio of the Atlantis Private Algorithmic Hedge Fund is realized with a daily frequency of trading in high liquidity markets. The objective of the fund is to provide an absolute return with a moderate risk profile and low correlation of the underlying assets. The Fund seeks to achieve its objectives by developing, testing, and implementing a portfolio of systematic and algorithmic trading models. The trading portfolio includes several market assets in metals, currency instruments, indices, and energy assets. Execution of individual trades takes place in regulated, centralized, and derivative markets. The strategy executes long and short positions to benefit from the identified short, medium, and seasonal trends and trends resulting from repetitive patterns, price formations. The system can apply a hedge trading approach in critical situations and high volatility. The goal of the portfolio, which is calibrated from ~ 50 logically different trading systems, is to provide profit each month. Our risk management is strictly based on clearly defined rules of a dynamically changing portfolio that constantly adapts to market conditions. OVERVIEW

JUDr. Luboš Žuffa
CEO company

The private algorithmic hedge fund - ATLANTIS recorded an increase of +3,12% September 2025. In September, equity markets continued their broad-based rally, with the S&P 500 rising by roughly 3.5% and solidifying its positive trajectory for the year. Investors reacted to growing expectations of the first interest rate cut by the Federal Reserve and signs of stabilization in economic growth, which supported demand for risk assets. Technology stocks once again led the advance, while smaller companies reached new highs, signaling that market strength was spreading beyond the large-cap segment. Foreign investors began returning to U.S. equities, reversing the earlier trend of capital outflows. In the currency markets, the U.S. dollar gradually weakened as monetary policy expectations shifted following the Fed's September rate cut. Overall, September was a month marked by continued equity strength, a softening dollar, and renewed opportunities for capital rotation. Market sentiment remained largely positive, though investors stayed alert to the potential for increased volatility in the coming months.
